CORONAVIRUS' EFFECT ON RESTAURANTS VERSUS RETAIL

VICTORIA DANFOS

"While restaurants continue to feel the weight of the pandemic, retailers are still benefiting."

Due to the economic impact of the pandemic, retailers reported nearly 3 million employees remained out of work, and the industry is expected to see a decline in sales by the close of 2020.

It was also found that "consumer spending in restaurants were down 34% on average"

"Forty percent of operators surveyed think it is unlikely their restaurant will still be in business six months from now" if there are no additional relief packages from the federal government.
